ABC NEWS PROGRAMS - First Quarter, 2012

PRIMETIME: WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

When you think no one is watching... what would you do? Called "a Candid Camera of Ethics" by The Columbia Journalism Review, the popular ABC News series Primetime: What Would You Do? returns with all-new scenarios.

Friday, January 20, 2012 (Season Premiere)

- Cover it Up: A person with a very obvious birthmark visits a busy make-up counter and asks for help selecting a new lipstick. The make-up artist instead insists on offering products to cover-up her face. Will other customers say anything?
- Conniving Customers: What will happen when two young men try to scam a restaurant for a free meal by putting a bug in their soup? Will other diners turn them in, and does it matter if the scammers are two young women?
- Kid Driver: Taking a page from recent headlines, "WWYD" sets out to see what will happen when a visibly intoxicated father asks his young son to serve as his designated driver. And what if it's an intoxicated mother and daughter?
- Gay Husband: How will onlookers react when a husband starts kissing a male lover, who had been sitting at the restaurant bar, the minute his wife leaves for the bathroom?

Friday, January 27, 2012

- So You Want to be a Model?: What would you do if you were sitting in a cafe next to two beautiful teen girls when a man approaches them, offering to make them famous? He says he is a photographer, with a studio in his home, and he'd be happy to take their photos. The girls are exuberant at their being "discovered" and squeal with delight as the "photographer" leaves to place a phone call and make all the arrangements. Will anyone advise the giddy girls that it isn't such a good idea?
- Gay Marriage Proposal: Right after a man proposes to his boyfriend at a restaurant, a fellow diner voices his disgust and disapproval. How will onlookers react? Will anyone defend the newly engaged gay couple?
- Doggie Adoption: A couple seems to want to adopt a rescued pit bull from a pet store for all the right reasons to provide a good home. But as soon as the pet store employee walks away, they let it be overheard by bystanders that their true motive is to use the dog in underground dog fights.
 Will anyone intervene?
- Laptop Thief: What will happen when someone steals a laptop left on a cafe table by a man who has asked the other cafe patrons to watch it? Will it matter if the laptop's owner is an obnoxious business man?

Friday, February 3, 2012

- Stealing from Homeless: Will anyone intervene when they witness someone stealing from a homeless person sitting on a sidewalk, begging for money? "What Would You Do?" plays out the scenario with the "thief" as a dressed-up businessman, a dressed-down man and a woman.
- Bridezilla/Unhelpful Bridal Consultant: There are shows all over television about it brides with an insatiable appetite for being the most irrational and mean customer a salesperson could ever have. Will anyone step in when they see a bridezilla in action? And what will happen when the tables are turned and the bridal salesperson is anything but helpful even downright rude to the customer? Will bystanders intervene?

Little Emperors/Mom Abuse: What would you do if you saw a young child hitting and verbally abusing mom when the child does not get his/her way? What if it were an older kid threatening to violently take action against his mom, who happens to already have a black eye?

Friday, February 10, 2012

- Baby Monitor Mother: A new mother sits in a bakery looking annoyed. Beside her is a fairly odd accessory a baby monitor monitoring a baby from her upstairs apartment. The mom asks other customers to listen because she needs a break from the baby and heads out down the street. Will the customers watch the baby, go after the mother, or call the police? What if the mother seems to be in despair instead of just needing some "time off" will anyone try to help the mom?
- Vegetarian/Vegan Discrimination: In a restaurant, a mother orders a vegan meal for her child. A couple sitting at the next table tries to convince the mother and child that they need meat/protein.
 At one point when the mother steps away, the couple tries to get the child to eat bacon. Will anyone step in? Twist: A 12-year-old son begs his mother to eat meat, and she says no. When she steps away, he asks other patrons if he can try their food.
- Cover it Up: A person with a very obvious port wine stain birthmark visits a busy make-up counter and asks for help selecting a new lipstick. The make-up artist instead insists on offering products to cover-up the port wine stain. Will other customers say anything?
- Pray Away the Gay: What would you do if you were at a restaurant and overheard a "therapist" telling a gay teenager that it is possible to change someone's sexuality simply by "praying it away"?

Friday, February 24, 2012

- Paternity Test: At a restaurant, a young woman reveals to her friend that her baby is not really her boyfriend's baby. When the boyfriend joins them and asks about how his baby is doing, will anyone tell him the truth?
- Smoking Parents: It's a crowded day on a beach boardwalk when people notice a woman, with an infant in a baby carrier, smoking a cigarette. The woman is making no effort to keep the smoke from the baby's face. Will anyone intervene?
- Tattoo Pressure: When a girl has second thoughts about getting a tattoo yet is getting peer pressure from her boyfriend to go forward with it, will anyone else at the tattoo parlor step in?
- Unloving Nanny: Instead of being a loving caretaker, a nanny walking down a busy suburban street belittles the little girls she is watching with derogatory comments. What will bystanders do, if anything?
- No More Free Samples: When a customer over-indulges in free samples at a deli counter, will other patrons alert a store employee?

Friday, March 2, 2012

- When "I Do" Becomes "I Don't": A young, engaged couple are at a diner when the woman confesses to her fiance that, even though she's told him she's a virgin (something mandated in the Mormon faith before marriage), she actually isn't and hopes he will still marry her. The fiance is shocked and tells his soon-to-be-bride that he cannot. Will fellow diners say anything?
- Diner Dispute: Will anyone come to the aid of a woman who shows signs of being both physically and verbally abused by her significant other?

- Dad, I've Got a Secret: Will anyone react to a teen boy who tells his unsympathetic father he is gay?
- Sticky Fingers: Will any bystanders intervene when a woman steals merchandise from a ski store? What if the thief is a former beauty queen?

Friday, March 9, 2012

- Teen Girls Peer Pressure: Will any bystanders defend a teen girl facing peer pressure to lose her virginity?
- Teen Boys Peer Pressure: When two teenage boys discuss drugging their girlfriends to have sex with them, will any bystanders say anything?
- Mom, We Need To Talk: What will happen when a teenage boy tells his disapproving mom that he feels he was born into the wrong body and wants to start living life as a girl? Will anyone in the restaurant come to the boy's defense?

Friday, March 16, 2012

- Devil Wears Prada: Many young women "pay their dues" by taking assistant positions for powerful people who treat them poorly. But when a boss' bad behavior happens in a public place, will anyone come to the aid of the young woman?
- Albinism: Will anyone stand up for a young adult with Albinism who is being tormented by bullies?
- Drop Dead Diva: What will happen when a size 14 woman is rudely told by a sales clerk that the store does not have clothes that large? Will fellow shoppers say anything?
- Buy Me Condoms/Plan B: A teenage boy asks pharmacy customers to buy condoms for him, explaining that the pharmacist behind the counter is a family friend and he's too embarrassed to buy the condoms for himself because of his strict, conservative upbringing. "WWYD" then changes things up with a teenage girl asking customers to buy Plan B for her, under similar circumstances. Will anyone help out the teens?

Friday, March 23, 2012

- Haircut from Hell: Would you tell a stranger sitting next to you at a hair salon that her haircut/color is awful, or lie to boost her self esteem?
- You're Marrying Her?: When a sales clerk at a bridal boutique refuses to sell a bride a dress because she is marrying another woman, will any fellow shoppers intervene?
- Found Cash: You spot a $50 bill on the ground. Would you take it? What if it has a deposit slip with a check for hundreds of dollars attached to it -- and it's been dropped right in front of the bank? Would you return it, deposit it or just put it in your pocket?
- Underage Teens Looking for Alcohol: Will any patrons of a liquor store buy alcohol for three underage teenage boys? What happens when the teens are girls?

Friday, March 30, 2012

- Sexy Tot: Straight from the headlines... what would you do if, at a clothing store, you witnessed a "pageant mom" revealing her young daughter's sexy outfit for an upcoming show?
- My Two Dads: A gay couple bring their kids to a restaurant for a family meal. But when the adults leave the table, the kids are taunted by some teenage boys sitting nearby for having gay fathers. Will any fellow diners intervene?
- You're Walking Home!: What happens when a mother gets fed up with her children's misbehaving in the backseat of the car fed up to the point of forcing them out after a dispute and telling them to walk home? Will people confront the mother, or will they feel that what is appropriate punishment is better left to the mother, even if she is at the end her rope? (OAD: 5/14/2010)
- Potty-Mouth Child: Kids say the darndest things... When the Lily character on "Modern Family" said the F-word, it stirred controversy on and off the screen. So what would happen when a child speaks profanity at a store will a bystander say anything?

EXPOSED: JUNKIE SCIENCE

Julian and Tali Wendrow were so desperate to help their autistic daughter, Aislinn, that they tried Facilitated Communication, which turned out to be a discredited technique when used to communicate with autistic people. But after the so-called "miracle cure" seemed to initially open up their daughter's silent world, it opened up a world of trouble: out of nowhere came allegations of unspeakable abuse. Chris Cuomo reports.

Friday, January 13, 2012

DESPERATE TO BE MOMS

How far will some women go to become a mom? In a surprising trend, thousands of women and couples are turning to a bold new option: instead of expensive and invasive sperm banks and fertility clinics, they are getting free sperm on the internet. "20/20" follows several women desperate to have children and willing to turn to this underground universe of online link-ups, meeting men on the internet to exchange this gift of life.

Friday, January 20, 2012

An unimaginable scene unfolded last Friday night when the luxury cruise ship Costa Concordia, carrying more than 4,000 passengers and crew, struck rocks near Giglio off the coast of Tuscany, Italy and began to sink. With reports from Chris Cuomo in Italy and Elizabeth Vargas and Deborah Roberts from New York, "20/20" gives viewers the most comprehensive updates - including the latest on the investigation into the captain's abandoning ship and the search for survivors, as well as passenger and crew survivor stories ranging from the hopeful to the tragic.

Friday, January 27, 2012

WAR OF THE ROSES

It started with a husband's obsession with the divorce movie "War of the Roses" and then escalated to 12 hours, of terror as he held his soon-to-be ex-wife hostage in their very own home. This divorce Armageddon played out in real time to negotiators and reporters and was all caught on audio tapes, offering sensational insight into the mind of a man out of control and a woman fighting for her life. ABC News Anchor Robin Roberts reports a harrowing story with chilling details.

Friday, February 3, 2012

HOLLYWED

From "I do" to "I don't" to "what was I thinking?"... In a town where fame can be fleeting, so too can Hollywood love and marriage. From Heidi Klum and Seal to Ashton Kutcher and Demi to Kim Kardashian and Kris Humphries, high profile Hollywood splits have dominated recent entertainment headlines. A special "20/20" reports.

Friday, February 10, 2012

SINS OF THE FATHER

What would drive a man to set his house on fire, murdering his two sons and killing himself – and could it have all been prevented? ABC News Anchor Chris Cuomo takes viewers inside the Powell family tragedy with a report and exclusive details on the events leading up to the tragedy.

Friday, February 24, 2012

THE CUTTING EDGE

Americans are being cut, stretched, tucked, smoothed, tapered, injected and filled to enhance their appearance in record numbers: almost 14 million cosmetic plastic surgeries were performed last year alone, creating a $10 billion a year industry. Anchored by Barbara Walters, she explores the most innovative procedures and the amazing new advances.

Friday, March 2, 2012

HONEYMOON DEATH DIVE

In his first and only interview since an Alabama judge put the troubling case to rest last week, Gabe Watson answers the tough questions from ABC News Anchor Elizabeth Vargas about his marriage, his tragic honeymoon, his strange behavior, what he says really happened during that fateful scuba dive, and how he is handling the fact that Tina's family believes he got away with murder.

Friday, March 9, 2012

PET CRAZY

From doggie mansions and thousand-dollar canine couture to pet jewelry and pet plastic surgery, "Pet Crazy" explores how and why America's pets are the most overly pampered in the world. Robin Roberts reports.

Friday, March 16, 2012

ANGELS & DEMONS

Will a jury convict Hemy Neuman for the murder of his employee's husband, Rusty Sneiderman, outside of Sneiderman's son's day care center... or will the jury believe Neuman's insanity plea that angels and demons who sounded like Olivia Newton-John and Barry White directed him to kill? Was the alleged love affair between Andrea and Hemy Neuman a fatal attraction, and was it really voices in Neuman's head or a deliberate ambush to kill a love rival? Elizabeth Vargas reports.

Friday, March 23, 2012

EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW: Dharun Ravi

Chris Cuomo sits down with former Rutgers University student Dharun Ravi in his first television interview since being found guilty last week of spying on his college roommate, Tyler Clementi. Ravi, faces up to 10 years in state prison after being found guilty of all 15 counts against him, including invasion of privacy and anti-gay intimidation -- a New Jersey state law hate crime.

Friday, March 30, 2012

LOTTO FRENZY

Mega Millions mania... One of the largest jackpots in history -- now estimated at a staggering half a billion dollars -- is up for grabs on Friday night. But does winning all of that money really buy happiness? Right before the live lotto drawing at 11:00 p.m. on Friday, 20/20 looks at past lottery winners and losers, as well as the scammers and swindlers who vie for a slice of the winner's pie. Why do so many lottery winners end up broke? What about the office pool? Can you play the odds to win? Barbara Walters reports.

20/20 SPECIAL EDITION: MY EXTREME AFFLICTION - First Quarter, 2012

This series looks into the lives of people with some of medicine's most amazing and extreme conditions or who have unbelievable abilities. Look back on some favorite reports and brings viewers some new, unimaginable conditions.

Saturday, March 10, 2012

Anchored by Elizabeth Vargas:

- Children of Hoarders: There are an estimated six million hoarders in the United States and while they suffer tremendously from the effects of this mysterious and devastating mental illness their families also suffer. "20/20" looks at the children of hoarders, who come clean about the shame, resentment and lifelong secrets of growing up in such conditions.
- Crazy for Cats: They are a mysterious breed women who fill their homes with cats instead of kids. Vargas takes us inside the homes of women whose passion for cats has literally, driven them to extremes.
- Alopecia: Five million Americans suffer from Alopecia- a condition with sudden and unpredictable hair loss. Georgia was a professional hair model who has had to suffer this condition. "20/20" follows Georgia on a very personal journey to redefine beauty.

Anchored by Barbara Walters:

• Seven... going on 70: What happens to a family when a child's birth becomes a medical mystery? Barbara Walters reports on Kaylee Halko and Lindsay Ratcliffe, two vibrant young girls who suffer from a rapid aging disease called progeria, The disease causes children to age at 10 times the normal rate. It is incredibly rare, Barbara interviews one of the oldest surviving children with progeria and explores the secrets of aging that her body may reveal.

Saturday, March 17, 2012

- Twisted Cheerleader: Washington Redskins Cheerleader Ambassador Desiree Jennings, 25, had everything going for her until one day when her body suddenly stopped working, turning into a twisted, jerky mess. Her journey for answers to this mystery takes her to a controversial osteopath in North Carolina and has led people questioning whether or not her affliction is real. Jim Avila reports.
- Kids Too Nice to Be Normal: Williams Syndrome is a rare genetic condition -- so rare, in fact, that few people have ever heard of it. But that one, should you ever meet him or her, will likely have a personality of unforgettable ebullience and warmth. Chris Cuomo attended a camp for children with Williams, and was besieged not by formal handshakes, but by hugs and slaps on the back and a barrage of questions. 20/20 follows researchers, children and their families in their quest to make sense of this medical condition.
- Mega-Brain: Daniel Tammet seems unremarkable, but behind his bookish exterior lies a superhuman gift, one of the most extraordinary brains man has ever seen. Tammet is a mathematical genius, capable of astronomical calculations instantly. He says he was born with the ability to experience numbers in an exceptionally vivid way, and is also a gifted linguist, speaking 9 languages. Yet because of his Asperger's diagnosis, he cannot drive a car. Nick Watt reports.
- Tourettes: Tourette Syndrome, is a neuro-biological disorder that is characterized by a range of symptoms ranging from painful self abuse and rage episodes to bizarre vocalizations like barking, meowing or even vulgar and profane language. The children are helpless to control the embarrassing behavior. ABC News Correspondent Jay Schadler follows the stories of four girls and their families as they document intimate scenes from their lives in video diaries.

Saturday, March 31, 2012

- Kids Living with Obsessive Compulsive Disorder: Fifteen-year-old Bridget cannot hug her own parents. She fears they are somehow "contaminated," and it has forced her to stop living at home. Rocco. 9, dissolves into tears whenever he tries to leave for school because he's consumed by the anxiety of what could happen once he leaves the house. They have Obsessive Compulsive Disorder, a brain condition that causes irrational compulsions. David Muir takes a rare look inside the lives of the children who are truly suffering from OCD.
- Children Living with Schizophrenia: 20/20 reports on the challenges facing families whose young children are suffering with severe mental illness. 20/20 spent time inside the homes of these children to see what life is like. Jay Schadler reports.

SPECIAL EDITION: ONE MOMENT IN TIME: THE LIFE OF WHITNEY HOUSTON

Take an in-depth look at the voice of the century -- from her record-setting achievements and musical legacy to her rocky personal life and battle with addiction. It will also include Diane Sawyer's ground-breaking interview done exactly 10 years ago, as well as the latest developments about the superstar's final days.

REVENGE FOR REAL - First Quarter, 2012

A limited ABC News series features real life people with motives for revenge and seeing them through.

Wednesday, March 7, 2012

MURDER IN THE HAMPTONS

Millionaire Ted Ammon was brutally murdered in the bedroom of his East Hampton mansion, suspicion soon fell on his wife Generosa and her boyfriend, Long Island electrician Danny Pelosi. Pelosi was convicted of the crime. Now from behind bars he's telling Cynthia McFadden what he says is the real truth of what happened that night----confessing to covering up the murder but claiming Generosa was bent on revenge for her husband's infidelities.

THE GOVERNOR'S SON

She ruined his political life with a phone call. He ended her real life with a pistol. So goes the tragic tale of Steve Nunn, son of fabled Kentucky governor Louis Nunn, and Amanda Ross, herself an ambitious and politically connected fixture in the insular world of Kentucky society. On Sept 10, 2009, Steve Nunn ordered his own headstone. The next day, he took his twisted revenge, gunning down Ross outside of her apartment. He then went to his father's grave and slit his wrists. Police found him before he expired, and this past summer he pleaded guilty to murder and is now serving life in prison.

- February 3rd Stray Bullet Hits Woman Janice Craig says she was upstairs when she heard her sister... 50-year-old Jacquelyn Carrington screaming. A 45-caliber slug hit their wall and couch, before going through her knee. But they didn't know what happened.. Until Jacquelyn started to walk
- February 8th Sikh murder update police released new evidence in the case of two sikh men gunned down in Elk Grove last year. Gurmej Atwal and Surinder Singh were shot near the "park and ride" on Stockton Boulevard. Today investigators announced they're looking for a pickup truck like this, it's lifted... tan or gold... with a standard cab... Cops say this is the best description they've got. They're using some really bad surveillance video.
- February 9th Yankee Hill Murder A 64-year-old man by the name of John Halsema, who lives at the top of this driveway, called the coroner's non-emergency line to say there was a dead body in the house. The body was that of his friend and roommate, and Halsema went on to explain that his friend was dead because he shot him earlier in the week.
- March 2nd Pastor Sentenced Tommy Daniels was convicted for molesting five girls who were in his home for either daycare or foster care. Daniels got 150 years to life in state prison.
 The judge said Daniels' actions were both cruel and involved careful planning. He's not eligible for parole. During today's sentencing, one victim who's now 13-years old, and her mother read statements.
- March 11th Empire homicide A homicide investigation is underway tonight in the town of Empire, near Modesto. Around seven tonight, a male was shot on the 52-hundred block of First Street, he later died at the hospital. We're waiting for more details from police, we'll have them for you as soon as we get them.
- March 14th Drama Club Theft The Oakmont High School Drama students have been rehearsing for the big spring musical since the middle of January. Their last show, the student directed and produced 'Language Archive', had been a success and the money made from that production was going to help finance 'The Little Shop of Horrors'. "we were just about to deposit it and someone broke into the classroom and then broke into the office and stole all the proceeds from the show".

- January 10th Teacher of the Month she gets results in the classroom or on the soccer field.
 Find out why Jennifer Hilary was nominated as our January Teacher of the Month.
- January 12th 01-12-2012 Natomas School Audit The report commissioned by the school district, says employees are not held accountable enough, and that district departments need reorganization and more efficiency. At last night's meeting, teachers defended themselves, saying most of them do not abuse sick leave and that difficult conditions are part of the problem.
- January 16th Sac&Co segment with Jeopardy Blue Clue Member Jimmy McGuire discussing their classroom jeopardy system that is a teaching tool for teachers and makes learning fun for kids
- January 16th Transitional Kindergarten New requirements for kindergarten enrollment go into effect this fall. And some kids could find themselves falling through the cracks. As it has been children in California have to turn five by December 1st to enroll in kindergarten that same calendar year. The state's new plan was to move that date to September 1st. The state was going to fund transitional kindergarten programs, but, the governor cut funding in his budget.
- February 1st Costly Textbooks California students are dealing with cash problems of their own. According to the state auditor, the cost of college textbooks is 1,260-dollars. Each year state lawmakers are considering ways to reduce the textbook burden, including switching to electronic or web-based books. Proponents say electronic textbooks could be updated regularly with no extra cost and save students much needed cash.
- February 2nd Lodi Preschool About three dozen parents and supporters protested this morning at a Los Angeles school rocked by Allegations of lewd conduct crimes by two teachers against children. Protesters are demanding greater communication with education officials and the placement of cameras in classrooms and hallways at Miramonte Elementary School. Almost a quarter of the school's students stayed home today.
- February 7th Sac&Co segment on Home Schooling Trend.
- February 23rd Fairfield suspending kindergarten? The pain of budget cuts elsewhere....a Solano County school district will take up some controversial proposals tonight. The Fairfield-Suisun Unified School District is expected to consider whether to suspend kindergarten for a year in order to save money. At issue whether school districts have to offer kindergarten by law. The Fairfield-Suisun District will also consider closing several schools. Tonight's meeting starts at 6 o'clock at the district offices at Hilborn road in Fairfield.
- February 29th Sac&Co segment on a free School preparation fair for parents of children entering kindergarten.
- March 4th Teacher Layoffs Sac City Unified School Board Members voted to send notices to 700 employees. San Juan Unified will notify 600...almost 250 in Elk Grove. More notices went out to employees in Placer County, Twin Rivers and others. Last year, about 25-hundred Sacramento County teachers received pink slips...but most kept their jobs when the legislature barred school districts from laying off teachers to balance their budget.
- March 12th Parents camp out to get their child a spot in kindergarten It might look like a camping trip. But these are schoolyard lines where parents are waiting to get their child a coveted spot on a kindergarten class list.
- March 12th Mellisa Paul reads to class Here at News10 we believe that when kids learn to read they will read to learn. Today as part of our "reading connects" program Mellisa Paul read to students at Saint Peter's School in Elk Grove. Log onto news ten dot net and click on "reading connects" at the top of the page. - January 2nd Alameda Going Smoke Free We just told you about some of the new laws that are now in effect in California. But now trying to grab a quick smoke outside in one Northern California community is getting even tougher.
- January 5th Plastic Bag Ban critics say bans don't work because they don't reduce the amount of litter and they point out, producing paper bags actually produces more greenhouse emissions. Still several other California cities and counties have instituted plastic bag bans.
- January 4th Bay Area Oil Leak A representative from Conoco-Philips called neighbors explaining they detected an odor coming from a nearby pipeline located on the former concord naval weapons station. Contra Costa County hazmat says it's been in contact with Conoco Philips, and they were told the oil has actually migrated under private property.
- January 12, Sac&Co segment that focuses on eco friendly products for babies.
- February 12th Japan tsunami debris headed for our shores Now entire cities are scattered across the ocean...and they're heading to California's coast. Government officials are working with the government of Japan to establish a way to return items that may have sentimental value to the Japanese. That includes the possibility of human remains.
- February 21st New Park Management Good news for local outdoor lovers. Auburn parks and Folsom Lake will stay open. Thanks to a 25-year partnership between the Bureau of Reclamation and the California Department of Parks and Recreation. Lack of funding threatened to close down the recreational areas. But under the new agreement the state will continue to manage Folsom and Auburn State Recreation Areas.
- February 29th Honda Hybrid Suit Today's the deadline for California to decide whether to oppose a class-action settlement between Honda and owners of its hybrid cars. A Los Angeles woman won nearly $10,000 this month in small claims court, after her Honda hybrid didn't get the advertised gas mileage. That's more than the couple hundred dollars cash per claim, the settlement is offering with California and four other states
- March 5th Chevy Volt General Motors suspended production of its Volt electric car for 5-weeks as the automaker deals with disappointing sales. 13-hundred workers will be idled for a month at the Detroit assembly plant that makes the volt. Gm sold 76-hundred volts last year, missing its goal of 10-thousand cars. One reason for slow sales a high price tag of $41,000, before a $7,500 government rebate.
- March 14, Sac&Co segment focusing on household recyclable items with the organization, Keep California Beautiful
- March 15, Sac&Co segment with General Motors and their Green Sticker program for those who drive electric vehicles like the Chevy Volt.
- March 17th Santa Cruz Boardwalk Clean Up This storm system has brought them so much rain on the coast - it's threatening the famous Santa Cruz beach boardwalk. The San Lorenzo River is getting so much runoff - it actually moved 200-feet and began to undermine part of the boardwalk. Crews have moved sand against a retaining wall - and are trying to redirect the swollen river. The river has already ripped apart a wooden staircase that goes down to the beach and caused several thousand dollars in damage.
- March 12th Gas prices have more drivers looking at hybrids. But hybrids might not save you as much money as you think. The hybrid Toyota Prius gets 48-highway miles to the gallon. But get this: the non-hybrid Hyundai Accent gets 40, nearly as good. And you can buy an accent for much less: just over $17,000 compared to more than$ 24,000 for the Prius. Even with today's high gas prices, it would take 16 years to recoup the Prius's higher cost --based on average mileage.
- March 27th Sac&Co segment focusing on the benefits of having a backyard garden with local landscaper Jeannie Hanson with Geno's Garden.

- January 12th, Fungicide in Orange Juice? Coca Cola, the makers of Simply Orange and Minute Maid Orange Juice says they told the FDA they found Brazilian growers had sprayed fungicide on their orange trees...a substance banned in the US. Most orange juice products made by Coke and other companies contain a blend of juice from different sources including Brazilian. No word on whether the fungicide has been found in Simply Orange or Minute Made products. The FDA has said the low levels found of the fungicide aren't a safety risk.
- January 19th Sac&Co segment on podiatric health with the Foot Laser Center.
- January 19th Medical Marijuana The State Supreme Court will try to clarify marijuana's hazy status in California. The court will look at whether local governments can ban pot shops. Despite the passage of a law legalizing marijuana use with a doctor's recommendation. Justices will also look into the ongoing dispute between state and federal authorities. Marijuana is illegal in all forms under federal law. Oral arguments have not yet been scheduled.
- January 20, Sac&Co segment on how to get in shape for the new year with California Family Fitness.
- January 26th Cancer Care Act the state senate is next in line to take up a series of bills broadening care services covered by private insurance plans. Among those most affected, patients battling cancer. News 10's Nanette Miranda has more on the legislation.
- February 1st Birth Control Recall The drug maker Pfizer, recalls a million birth control packets after a packaging error. Some of birth control pills carry an inadequate amount of hormone-based drugs and may not work effectively. The problem affects several Pfizer birth control brands that you see on the screen. The packets have expiration dates between July 31st, 2013 and March 31st, 2014. Pfizer issued a statement saying they're recalling the birth control pills because the packaging error raises the risk of unintended pregnancy.
- February 2nd A new tobacco tax proposal will be on the ballot this June. Prop 29 calls for a 1-dollar tax on a pack of cigarettes. Supporters say the money will be used for cancer research and stop-smoking programs. The average price for a pack of cigarettes in California is a little more than five bucks. The tobacco industry spent almost 70-million dollars to fight another tax in 2006. Analysts expect them to open up the checkbook again to fight this measure.
- February 8th Walmart Healthy Food Labels Walmart is doing its part to make America healthier. They'll be putting new labels on foods that are considered healthy. The retailer hopes the seal..."great for you" will encourage shoppers to choose healthy foods. The new labels will show up this spring.
- February 23, Sac&Co segment discussing the benefits of Lasik surgery with leading medical professional Dr. Leonard Newman.
- March 1st Contraception Amendment The senate votes today on the so-called "Conscience Amendment." It would let employers 'opt out' of covering health treatments that violate their religious or moral beliefs. Missouri Senator Roy Blunt proposed the amendment in response to the Obama administration mandate requiring health care plans to cover birth control without employee co-pay. Republicans say it's needed to protect religious freedom. Democrats say the amendment is an attack on women's access to health care.
- March 8th A new study out this morning says that working out can not only change your appearance, but your DNA! According to time magazine, researchers at a Swedish medical university found that just a 20-minute workout for healthy adults who don't normally exercise can change the DNA molecules in muscles -- making them more efficient. The underlying genetic code stays the same.
- March 9th, Sac&Co segment highlighting the benefits of eating organic fruits and vegetables with the company, Farm Fresh to You.

- January 6th, Stockton Job Fair Thousands of new jobs are up for grabs in Stockton. The city is beginning a huge prison construction project, to build a medical facility for more than 17-hundred inmates. Hundreds showed up this morning to apply at a job fair at the Downtown Stockton Civic Center. By 10 o'clock, about 345 people turned out with more expected all day.
- January 9th Light Rail Ribbon Cutting Sacramento regional transit broke ground on a new light rail station. This one is located on 8th street between "H" and "I". It's part of the green line, and later this year it will run to "Township Nine" and the River District. It's also the first step toward one day connecting Downtown Sacramento with Natomas and the Sacramento International Airport.
- January 13th Isleton's Police Off Their Beat The city manager says like other towns, Isleton is dealing with tough economic times, and they simply couldn't pay the bill. Isleton had been with the same insurer for nearly 100 years, but that company would not agree to an installment plan, so the policy was canceled. For now, both Isleton Police Officers are off the beat. They're being replaced by a Sacramento County Sheriff's Deputy.
- February 7th California Same Sex Marriage Appeals judges in San Francisco will announce the decision at ten this morning our time. In August of 2010 a judge ruled the ruled the voterapproved ban on same sex-marriage was unconstitutional. But Prop 8 supporters say the judge who made that ruling should have removed himself from the case, because he is openly gay. Both sides of same sex marriage think the issue will eventually make it to the Supreme Court and legal experts agree.
- February 7th Homeless Human Rights The United Nations is calling out Sacramento, over human rights violations against the city's homeless. A UN investigator sent a letter to Mayor Kevin Johnson, concerned that the homeless population did not have basic access to bathrooms and drinking water. Local homeless rights activists say the city could easily provide water and bathrooms, if it designated a legal camping area.
- February 9th California Mortgage Settlement According to the Wall Street Journal, California joined a massive nationwide settlement with five major banks. The deal will likely be announced today, and it could be worth up to 25-billion dollars. Ally Financial, Bank of America, Citigroup, J.P. Morgan, Chase, and Wells Fargo would pay troubled borrowers, states and the federal government for alleged abuses by lenders. $1.5 billion would go to borrowers who lost their homes to foreclosure. Individuals would get around $1,500 each. Other homeowners could see their existing loans cut by tens of thousands of dollars or have their mortgages refinanced.
- February 16th Sac&Co segment on the Effort, an organization that provides affordable health care services to lower economic areas.
- February 17th, Sac&Co segment on Oscar Night Sacramento which raises money for the Sacramento AIDS Foundation.
- March 1st Welfare Drug Tests Should welfare recipients be required to pass a drug test? The proposal has 245 likes and counting on the Newsten Facebook page. There are 23 states seeking stricter laws to receive public aid.
- March 5th Three months after it made national headlines the UC Davis task force report on November's infamous pepper spraying incident will be released tomorrow. The UC Davis Police Chief, Annette Spicuzza and the two officers who pepper sprayed the students remain on administrative leave tonight.
- March 2nd Sacramento Mayor Reads to Elementary Students Mayor Kevin Johnson helped a group of third graders celebrate the joys of reading, as part of "Read Across America Day." In honor of Dr. Suess' 108th birthday, Glenwood Elementary School in Natomas played host to 50 guest readers. They read to every classroom at the school. Improving literacy for Sacramento children is a top priority for Mayor Johnson. He launched the "Sacramento Reads" third grade literacy campaign last year.

- January 4th Great Hang Up: CHP Cell Phone tickets The California Highway Patrol wrote 111 cell phone tickets in just 24-hours - during its maximum enforcement against texting and driving. If you don't think it's a big deal, watch what happened when we put News10's Melissa Crowley to the test.
- January 6th Stockton Redevelopment When the state Supreme Court approved the Governor's plan to shut down local redevelopment agencies it put groups like the Stockton's Children's Museum on alert. In Stockton a lot of projects through the years were financed through the redevelopment process which gave tax breaks to developments in blighted areas. But the state wants that tax money back and that appears to involve cities, like Stockton, selling off properties, like the museum---that are owned by redevelopment agencies.
- January 3rd High Speed Rail Another blow to the state's high speed rail project. An independent panel says California lawmakers should not authorize $2.7 billion in bonds to build the first part of the rail system. The report by criticizes the California High-speed Rail Authority for failing to identify long-term funding and having inadequate staff to manage a large construction project.
- January 11 Sac&Co segment discussing the changes in the state tax laws with a representative from the Franchise Tax Board.
- January 30th Sac&Co segment with the Office of Traffic Safety discussing the new Child Booster Seat law.
- February 1st Great Hang Up Officer Misty Dailey's program is five years old, and includes graphic pictures of the reality and aftermath of distracted driving and drinking accidents. Her presentation even includes what happened to a baby hit by a driver. We checked out a presentation last Friday and watched students spellbound by her message.
- February 5th Parking Fees for Arena At last night's City Council meeting a packed house, 36 people turned out to speak in favor of the plan, only eight against. In the end it was nine zip. The vote gives the go-ahead to start getting bids from eleven companies. The winning bid will probably pay around $240-million and that money will help pay for a new arena with a 400-million dollar price tag. After the vote the mayor addressed concerns, about jobs, and parking rates increasing.
- February 6th, Sac&Co segment with Heating and Air Company Clark &Rush discussing how homeowner can take advantage of the Federal home energy rebates from SMUD.
- February 22nd City Water Rates Going Up Soon, Sacramento City residents will have to pay more for water. The City Council passed the plan to raise water rates. Starting this summer, residents will see a 10 percent rate bump each year for the next three years. Waste water rates will jump even more...increasing 16 percent this year, 15 percent next year, and then another 14 percent in 2014. The plan passed, with only Sandy Sheedy dissenting.
- February 28 Sac&Co segment with the Office of Traffic Safety with tips on how to avoid driving distracted and driving safe during the upcoming St. Patrick's Day Holiday.
- March 5th Tower Bridge Work Starting this morning at seven and running through Friday, Caltrans will begin daytime electrical line work on the tower bridge. That work will go until 7 p-m each night and will include lane restrictions and one-way traffic. So, if possible, you may want to find a different route to and from work this week.
- March 7th Great Hang Up Motocross Riders We talk about apps and cars as mobile offices today we look at two wheel safety with motorcycles. We caught up with some freestyle riders who say they would never take a chance to text and drive. "You can get Bluetooth in a helmet for motorcycles where the same hands-free rules apply... No texting or holding a phone. This one runs about 100 bucks". For more on road safety go to our great hang up page on news10.net.

March 8th - Toyota Recall - The Company is recalling about 680-thousand cars...one is the Tacoma pickup truck from 2005 to 2009. Another recall is the 2009 Camry sedan and a third vehicle, the 2009 - 2011 Venza cross over SUV. The recall involves 680-thousand vehicles in all...the company says a steering wheel problem can trigger faulty airbags. Chrysler is also recalling this morning...210-thousand Jeep Liberty's because in cold weather salt from road work can cause corrosion.

- January 9th Juvenile Prisons California's youth prison system may soon cease to exist, ending a notorious legacy that included 23-hour cell confinements, using cages as punishment for misbehaving and staff beatings, sometimes caught on tape. The McIvers have been working with the Ella Baker Center for Human Rights to shut down the system. They say the Stockton facility their grandson is held in is mice-infested and not giving inmates, known as "wards" -- enough to eat.
- January 11, Sac&Co segment with the professional sports team, Sacramento Kings focusing on their Get Fit program that teaches young people and families about the benefits of exercise and eating.
- January 18th Homeless Science Wiz A semi-finalist in a national science competition is on the guest list of President Obama's State of the Union speech. And what makes this girl's story extraordinary; she and her family are homeless. A congressman invited Samantha Garvey because he said she's an inspiration for others. The teenager rose above her circumstances to submit a stellar research project that could win a $1,000,000 prize.
- January 21st A Dutch teen has finished a yearlong solo journey around the globe landing on the Caribbean island from which she set out on January 20th of last year. Laura Dekker turned 16 during the trip and may be the youngest sailor to complete the round-the-world voyage. Several Dutch officials had tried to block her trip, arguing she was too young to risk her life. School authorities say she should have been in a classroom.
- February 1st Flu Closes School A different kind of health concern at San Francisco's Saint Ignatius High School, students there are getting an unexpected long weekend. An outbreak of stomach flu has sickened about 150 students. Just yesterday 50 students called in sick, and more than 90 were sent home. The principal says classes will resume on Monday. Clean-up crews sanitize the entire school over the next several days.
- February 2, Sac&Co segment on young entrepreneurs and how to use that skill to raise money for college.
- February 3rd According to StudentsAgainst Drunk Driving, 72 percent of US teens will drink alcohol, by the end of high school. More than a third drink by eighth grade. And when drinking is no longer exciting, experts say teens are willing to try out new and dangerous ways to get high.
- February 8th Spanking Study Spanking your kids might leave long lasting scars. A study published by a Canadian medical journal found that kids who were physically punished ended up having more mental health problems. They also showed slower cognitive development.
 Researchers say the study proves parents should try more constructive ways when disciplining their kids.
- March 2nd Crying Baby Ban Another story people are talking about. Some restaurants across the country are banning crying and unruly kids. Last week.. Managers of a pizzeria in Atlanta added a disclaimer to their menu asking parents to take crying children outside, out of respect to other customers. And last summer, a Pennsylvania restaurant banned children under age six. Most people we spoke to say it's the parents who need to take better control of their kids.
- March 3rd Magnet Girl A powerful warning tonight from some parents in Oregon. Their 3-year old daughter recently got sick. At first they thought she had a stomach flu but when she didn't get better they took her to the doctor. Eventually, doctors took an x-ray of her stomach, which quite possibly saved her life. At first doctors thought Payton Bushnell had swallowed a bracelet, but when they tried to remove it from her stomach, they realized they were dealing with 37 high-powered magnets. Doctors say the magnets snapped her intestines together and ripped three holes in her lower intestine and one in her stomach.
